Dear Parent or Guardian,

Your child is invited to participate in an art project in the Religious Education Program on April 30, 2017 with UUCE friend and artist, Tanya DeSantis. Your permission is sought for the following activities:

1. Your child will be asked to draw a picture that illustrates a sentence from Tanya's children's book, When the Sun Traded Places with the Moon.
2. A photo of the art work may be used by Tanya, in her professional & business brochure, as an example of how children can use drawing to depict a scene.
3. A photo of your child while drawing the picture may be taken. Your child's face will not be seen in the photo.

Your child's first name and age will be the only identifiers.

Your child's art work will be returned after the project is completed.

Please read and return this form to your child's Religious Education teacher by April 30, 2017 no later than 10:15 am.

Dear UUCE parents:

THIS IS A TIME SENSITIVE REQUEST AND YOUR PROMPT RESPONSE WILL BE APPRECIATED!

Your school aged child is invited to participate in an art project with UUCE friend and author, Tanya DeSantis. During the April 30, 2017 Religious Education class, your child will be asked to draw pictures that illustrate pages for her upcoming publication, When the Sun Traded Places with the Moon.

Please review the attached Permission form and indicate in what capacity you will allow your child's participation. For this one class session, ALL children will participate in this project, regardless if the author is allowed to keep your child's work. We want every child to feel included while respecting your wishes regarding this opportunity. So for example, families who do not wish to have their child's artwork submitted for the book project, we at the UUCE will keep their artwork for display in the classroom only.

Please direct your questions to me should there be any.

Blessings,
Susan Galle-Boyko
Director of Religious Education.
